Born to Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ferguson, in Tombstone, last night, a bouncing eight-pound boy. Mother and child are doing nicely and father is happy. Mrs. Ferguson is a sister of the publishers of the Prospector and one of the force, and the new arrival is expected to be at his post shortly helping to get out the great family daily.

REFUGE SEWING

The Red Cross now has a supply of refugee sewing to be done. It is very urgent and the time limited. The work may be taken home, if so desired. All gauge work has been discontinued for the time. Not for a lack of material but by orders from headquarters. It will not be resumed until after the quotas of refugee sewing is completed.

WORKERS WORKED

The workers from Tombstone who went to Bisbee and Douglas and surrounding precincts met with all kinds of circumstances and there is no doubt that the work was effective. In Bisbee and Lowell the Douglas workers, although outnumbering the local workers did not have a "locking" while in Douglas the young ladies of Tombstone made the Douglasites sit up and take notice, receiving much favorable comment on having the nerve to go right into the enemy's territory. They report many a tilt with the workers and the rest of the smaller city folks. They also received much favorable comment from the newspapers, who had to admit they were "there."

with no new cases today, according to Dr. Hughart. The three cases yesterday were Mexicans.

TOMBSTONE'S QUOTA

Tombstone's quota in the war work drive will be a little over $700, according to word received today from headquarters, and it is expected that the old camp will again rally to the cause by going over the top.

EVERYBODY BUNKED

Almost every city in the United States was bunked yesterday with the peace news sent out by a news agency from New York. The Prospector printed the news on supposed good authority, which proved to be a hoax. Many of the great cities of the country were victims of this colossal news hoax. They had celebrated in New York, Denver, Chicago, Salt Lake City and elsewhere.

THANKS TO CONTRIBUTORS

Mrs. A. T. Hoy, president of the Daughters of the Confederacy, Bisbee, Ariz., wishes to thank the following contributors to the U. S. C. Red Cross fund: Mrs. J. W. Stewart, Dr. H. H. Hugart, Mrs. W. G. Gilmore, Mrs. C. W. Douglas, Mrs. John Rock, Miss Nellie Gandy, Mrs. J. A. Holland, Douglas Gray, Sr. Miss Kathleen McElroy, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thomas, Mrs. M. D. Schreiber. The fund is to go to a bed in the Red Cross hospital in France to be used for Arizona boys who might be wounded or sick.

(From Saturday's Daily)

VISITED IN DOUGLAS

Miss Mildred Struthers returned home today after spending several days in Douglas, the guest of friends.

USELESS TO SEND TAXES WITHOUT PENALTY

County Treasurer H. S. Ross today announced that he wished it made plain among taxpayers who have allowed the first installment of their taxes to become delinquent, that it was useless to send in the amount of their taxes to the office without attaching the penalties. Yesterday, he stated 31 remittances were received from various parts of the county bearing no extra allowances for penalties, while the day before his office had to return in the neighborhood of 50. The taxpayers evidently do not understand that the penalties must be paid if they allow their taxes to go delinquent, even if the remittance is sent in the next day. The first installment of state and county taxes became delinquent on Monday, the 4th, and those who have become delinquent should pay up as soon as possible before the penalties become heavier.

IN FROM RANCH

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Frazee were visitors in Tombstone today from their ranch in South Pass.

ALMOST RECOVERED

Mrs. W. G. Gilmore is improving rapidly from a recent slight operation and was able to be up for a short while yesterday, which is pleasing news to her Tombstone friends.

NINE CASES OF "FLU" TODAY

Dr. H. H. Hughart, local deputy health officer, today announced that there were nine new cases of Spanish influenza broke out in Tombstone, which makes a total of over 30 cases now prevalent in the city. Undoubtedly the "flu" has just "hit" Tombstone, and the doctor urges that all precautions possible be taken by the public in order to avoid contraction.

MEMBER LOCAL MASONIC LODGE DIES IN FRANCE

The local order of Blue Lodge Masons today received word from Camp Hospital 73 Base Section 5, France, that Sergt. Geo. Wiley Manns, member of the local order, had died in the hospital from pneumonia. Manns was a member of the local order, having joined from Fort Huachuca, where he was stationed for several years. He was represented on the service flag of the lodge, and the star will now be changed to a gold one, in his honor.

INFLUENZA GETS WORSE IN PHOENIX;

62 NEW CASES THERE

PHOENIX, Nov. 7.—Yesterday was the high day so far in the influenza epidemic in Phoenix. Sixty-two new cases were reported in comparison with the next highest day, last Friday, when 45 cases were reported.

At the emergency hospital seven new cases were admitted, five discharged and one died.

At St. Joseph's two new cases were admitted and two died. One other death was reported to the city health department, making a total of four in the past 24 hours.

The worst report from outside points in the state comes from the Globe district, which reports that in the past 48 hours they have 63 new influenza cases, 18 pneumonia and seven deaths.

Flagstaff reports seven new cases and one death, Springerville two deaths, but no new cases, and that the conditions is excellent. Verde has three new cases and one death.

Fort Mohave reports the condition there as serious, and needs another doctor and more nurses.

Wishing to discuss the various matters connected with the influenza epidemic with the health officers from over the state, Dr. O. H. Brown today sent the county health officers over the state the following message:

"Calling a meeting of the representatives of the county and city boards of health for Saturday afternoon.

"If you cannot arrange to attend yourself, send some other member of the board of health. I think it important that we discuss the situation regarding influenza in the state and arrive at definite policy of action.

Metzger has four new cases, age pneumonia, but no deaths in the past 24 hours. Morehead has six new influenza cases and one pneumonia. Clifton reports eight new cases, two pneumonia and two deaths.

The condition at Garman is reported as serious. They have a total of 200 cases and have sent an appeal call for another doctor and more nurses. Dr. L. B. Soech was ordered to proceed from Holbrook to Garman, but reported that he was sick and unable to go.

From Judge A. G. McAllister of Safford came an inquiry to the state health department today regarding the confiscation and use of whisky in influenza cases, to which Dr. O. H. Brown sent this reply: "County health officers can commandeer whisky and take it. This is no violation of your oath."

MORE THAN 10,000 ADDITIONAL NURSES WILL BE NEEDED

PHOENIX, Nov. 6.—More than ten thousand additional nurses will be needed for the Army Nurse corps by January 21 and another 25,000 nurses will be needed by June 1.

This is the information wired to the State Council of Defense by the field division of the Council of Defense this morning. The impression that no more nurses are needed in military hospitals is absolutely wrong. Nurses are needed and needed badly and the government calls on the patriotic women of the nation to enroll in this worthy work, which means so much to soldiers and sailors of the nation and which has so great a bearing on the winning of the war.

One of the hardest jobs after the war will be rolling up the barbed wire.

CAMPBELL CLAIMS ELECTION BY 150 MAJORITY IN STATE

With all precincts in the returns from Cochise county, Colter has a majority of 803 votes, including the soldier vote, which was 19 to in favor of Colter.

L. C. E. Adams will be the holdover supervisor. He leads Roberts with 24 votes.

Ed Hughes heads the ticket for county assessor with a total vote of 620.

In the legislative ticket Tom Hughes leads O'Neill by over 600 votes for state senator. In the representatives Col leads with 6020; Jennings second with 5652; Wylie, 5613; Sealey, 5586; Delbridge, 5290; Francis, 5104, and Mrs. Hayward, 5032.

James McDonald's majority over Wright is 661 so far. French has beaten Gungl for county attorney by 2590. Elsie Toles defeated Ponda by over 1900.

County seat removal lost by a majority of 25 on the 50 per cent basis, and over 800 on the 60 per cent basis.

In the state this afternoon reports from Phoenix are that the Republican central committee claim election of Campbell by 150, and the Democrats the election of Colter by less than 100.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6, 1918. State Council of Defense, Phoenix, Arizona.

I earnestly beg you not to relax your efforts in the slightest degree on account of the possibility of an early armistice. Even if an armistice should be concluded this does not mean that the war is over, and in any case of emergency will not be over for a long time. Most of the work which you have been called on to perform must go on undisturbed, and I hope every man and woman in the council of defense system will stay on the job. In a few days will write you as to the outlook for future work.

FRANKLIN K. LANE, Chairman Field Division, Council of National Defense.

MAN KILLED AS TRUCK CRASHES WITH TRAIN;

ANOTHER BADLY HURT

CHANDLER, Ariz., Nov. 8.—A terrible accident occurred early Wednesday morning at Hansen Junction when the incoming Maricopa Phoenix train hit a Goodyear truck instantly killing Archie Lackey, aged 23 years, and seriously injuring Charles J. Howard, the night watchman at Goodyear. Howard's leg was broken and he was otherwise hurt.

The two men had gone to Hansen Junction to meet the 6 o'clock train, to meet some Mexican cotton pickers and take them to the Goodyear camp, in some unknown manner the truck driver misinterpreted the signals, evidently believing the train would stop.

COUNTRY FALLS BEHIND IN COPPER PRODUCTION

BISBEE, Nov. 4.—In spite of the almost phenomenal increase in the production of copper in Arizona, the country as a whole is falling behind in its production and needs.

The production of refined copper for the first seven months of 1918 was 1,425,000,000 pounds, compared with 1,498,000,000 pounds in the corresponding period of 1917.

ONLY TWELVE CASES OF "FLU" ON U. OF A. CAMPUS

TUCSON, Nov. 7.—The cases of influenza in the hospital which at the beginning of the "flu" epidemic was improvised on the campus of the University of Arizona have been reduced to 12, all of which are convalescent. Less than three weeks ago there were in the neighborhood of 200 cases among the members of the training camp and the students of the university. The number of volunteer nurses has been greatly reduced. Rumors that the university would reopen next week are without foundation, according to a statement made by President F. B. Von Klenzsmid last evening. No date for the commencement of the classes has been set. Dr. von Klenzsmid stated, as the university is abiding by the action of the city and county health officials. Particular caution in reopening the campus to students will be exercised, from the fact that such students come from all parts of the state, and if the disease were still prevalent in any part of Arizona would be possible mediums for the transference of "flu" germs.

PART OF OLD TUCSON IS TO BE TORN DOWN

TUCSON, Nov. 6.—Another section of old Tucson is to be modernized in the widening of West Broadway, the courts having agreed that the city may condemn the necessary property. In the consequent demolition will be included the old Catholic church, latterly made into a lodging house. A part of the pioneer Occidental hotel also will be torn down.

CORPORATION COMMISSION ORDERS PHOENIX STREET CAR CO. TO REPAIR LINE

PHOENIX, Nov. 4.—The state corporation commission has backed up the Phoenix city commission and has ordered that the Phoenix Street Railway company immediately repair its Grand avenue line to the state fair grounds and resume service.

20 TONS OF PITS AND HARD NUT SHELLS COLLECTED

PHOENIX, Nov. 8.—Thanks to the patriotic co-operation of the people of Arizona in responding to the appeal for the conservation of pits and hard nut shells with which to supply the army with carbon for gas masks, more than 20 tons of this material has been collected and is ready for shipment. This was learned today from Red Cross and food administration officials, who are managing the campaign.

Red Cross chapters acting as collecting agents throughout the state are advised that as soon as they have sufficient quantities to ship they should communicate with the San Francisco office of the Red Cross, Bureau of Salvage and Ship, Flood building. Upon application, stating the amount of material to be shipped that office will supply a government bill of lading so that the transportation will be without cost.

Small quantities of pits and shells may be sent direct.

The only criticism which Red Cross collecting agents have to make is that quantities of soft nut shells are included in the donations. As there are of no use considerable delay is experienced and rigid inspection is necessary. The public is also urged to thoroughly clean all pits before dropping them in collecting receptacles or sending them in.

FOR PERSONAL SERVICE

Application for personal service at home or overseas by persons living in Arizona must be made through Frank Hiersford, state director of bureau of personnel at Tucson, Arizona. The information bureau of the Red Cross located in room 12, War Work building, Tucson, will gladly answer questions relating to Red Cross work as well as information in regard to general requirements and conditions of service for both men and women.

Marines. They didn't like the Y. M. C. A. and Clifford was assigned to their organization—the organization which later made history at the San Thery and started the tide of war in favor of the Allies. They are hard-boiled guys, those Marines. They are fighting men and like only those who can fight. They imagined Clifford was a weakling and could not go through what they knew was before them.

But that reply about the weather and hell was the key to their quarters. Then a few days later, he decided that he boys needed a bit of religious teaching. He called them together and announced that service would be opened with a hymn. And they relent and sing a good old hymn their mothers had sung to them when they were babies.

They did not. These guys were prejudiced against Y. M. C. A. men in general and preachers in most instances. They began to sing "Katy," that popular song everyone knows—which goes something like this:

"Katy, beautiful Katy, you're the only good looking girl that I adore; when the moon shines over the benediction, I'll be waiting for you at the kitchen door."

He knew hard boiled eggs.

He immediately switched his text to "I'll be waiting for you at the kitchen door," and told that gang of future heroes that they should lead clean lives so they could return unshamed to their mothers and the girls waiting for them at the kitchen door. They liked his line of talk. They decided he could stay with them.

Today Rev. Mr. Clifford is in the Warren district. He arrived this morning, just seven weeks after he left his flock at Tulsa, the place where the Yanks mopped up the Huns once more. He will remain throughout the day; he will speak to several committee meetings and those who will be privileged to hear the "Doc" will be notified of the time and the place of meetings.

Of course Rev. Mr. Clifford is glad to be back in Arizona, glad to shake the hands of the people he knows in his old home state, but he is already anxious to get back to his outfit and he is not scheduled to return until sometime in December.

Just to make sure that he will return to their organization, the Marines with whom he has been going over the top in all their battles, seized part of his luggage as he was preparing to leave for the United States and politely informed him that the only way he could get it back would be by returning after his tour in America, and sticking with the gang until Fritz had been put out of business as a war maker. They felt that he wouldn't travel in the war machine with any other company than theirs—and they are right about it—but they were just making sure that he will return to them.

Down in this part of the southwest, and for that matter all over the United States, everyone knows how Clifford won the title of "Doc." In the face of a deadly shock, a doctor and a stretcher bearer, pushed a way to a front line trench to rescue the colonel of the regiment, who had been wounded severely. Ever since he has been one of them and his title has been "Doc."

He still smiles, this man who has been through a thousand hells since that night he told the roughneck hell would be warmer than the exterior of France at that moment. He has gone over the top in every charge made by the marines, has seen many die for a great cause, has taken every risk that any marine has taken, and yet he smiles. That smile, that sunny disposition is what makes him popular with the hard hitting Yanks.

The boys will joke in the face of death—they are picked men who know how to die gamely and for the flag they swear by—and Doc is one of them.

There was the lad who had both of his hands blown off.

"Can I do anything for you?" asked the Doc.

"Gimme a pill," said the soldier. Doc had not tasted tobacco for 25 years. But the boy might die and he had smiled when he asked for the cigarette. That boy was playing a practical joke with death hovering nearby, for the marine knew the Doc didn't smoke. So the person went him one better. He found a cigarette, struck a match and started the pill to burning. As he placed the tobacco cylinder between the boy's lips, the young fellow said:

"Thank you, Doc, but when I get home I'll tell your wife that you have been smoking."

The Doc is a modest fellow. He doesn't like to talk about the things he has been through across the big pond. He is the owner of the much coveted Croix de Guerre—and he keeps it in an inside pocket—cited for bravery and he doesn't even wear the badge that goes with it.

But his modesty is typical; it is one of the many things that make him a likeable man, a fellow whom the marines swear by. He will throw off just a little of his reserve and modesty today when he speaks to the Bisbee and Warren District committees—just enough to permit his telling of some of the things which he has seen and done; enough of these things to start the blood of his auditors running hot in their veins and to stir them to greater efforts in behalf of the United War Work Campaign.

Doc Clifford will come to Tombstone Monday, where he will spend a day in the Old Camp in the interests of the United War Work Campaign.

NOTE: Judge Lockwood requests that the Liberty Bond Committee and canvassers meet at the court room Monday at 1 p. m., when "Doc" Clifford will address them.
